

Transform a life, and your own

Mia was born with Diamond Blackfan Anemia, a rare disorder that prevents her body from producing red blood cells. She requires monthly blood transfusions just to survive. At only 16 she has already received more than 170 lifesaving transfusions.

“Words cannot express my thankfulness to blood donors. If I could, I would hug each one to let them know how much they mean to my daughter and to our family.”
- Mia’s mom, Kristi
